About the Conference EDST

CIGRE SC C6 Colloquium Vienna

The 2015 International Symposium on Smart Electric Distribution Systems and Technologies (EDST) aims to bring the research and industry community together to discuss recent developments and approaches to support the roll out of Smart Grid solutions with a strong focus on replicability, scalability and system validation as well as to enjoy beautiful Vienna.

EDST 2015 is an international conference supported by the International Council on Large Electric Systems (CIGRE), the IEEE Industrial Electronics Society (IES), the IEEE Austria Section, the Austrian Electrotechnical Association (OVE), and the AIT Austrian Institute of Technology. At the same time, the ComForEn 2015 (Symposium on Communications for Energy Systems) will be staged for the 6th time. The conference brings together equipment providers and grid operators and aims to exchange experience and information on latest developments in the context of secondary substation technology.

About the AIT Energy Industry Day 2015

The AIT Energy Industry Day brings together equipment manufacturers and energy system operators in the light of cutting-edge research. The event aims to exchange experience and information on latest technologies in the context of smart grids. Hands-on experience of innovative equipment can be gained at the exhibition in the AIT Laboratories, where latest available technologies from selected areas are presented. The exhibition is rounded up with a discussion forum with international experts.

Preference subjects 2015

- Virtual Power Plants and Aggregator
- Electric Vehicle Charging Systems
- Electric Storage Systems

September 11th, 2015
